

CICC DIRECTORS TAKE MESSAGE TO THE CAPITOL

Breaking up into small groups the members of the CICC Board walked the halls of the Capitol calling on Assembly Members from both sides of the aisle. Armed with CICC position statements and talking points, and in the accompaniment of industry lobbyists, the small groups made brief visits to the offices of their elected representatives. The exercise served in part to demystify the legislative process and to introduce CICC Directors to their Assembly Member. In one instance a Director was able to have a quality one-on-one conversation with his representative. Each of the small groups met with at least one elected official, some met with more than one. Additionally, several Directors received feedback from the persons with whom they met. All who participated had positive things to say about their trip to the Capitol. CICC would be pleased to assist individual companies in setting-up meetings with specific legislators and/or regulators. For more information contact julrich@comcast.net

CICC members in Senate Chambers from L to R: Donna Murphy, J.R. Simplot; Suzanne Iyer, Clorox; Curtis Miller, Georgia Pacific

#####